DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fukui et al (US 2002/0102502).

See Fukui et al column 38, claim 1, 11; pages 23, Example 1, [241] to [0273] to pages 24, 26 ; Table 1, samples 7-9, 14-16 which discloses a photothermographic material containing silver halide, silver salt of an aliphatic carboxylic acid, reducing agent and the compound of formula (1) of the present claimed invention. See also the silver halide grains having grain size of 0.01 to 0.15 micron in [0099], doped with hexacyanometal complex in amount of  $10^{-5}$  to  $10^{-2}$  mole per mole of silver halide including metal complexes of iridium, rhodium and iridium in [0101] to [0112]; the preferable long-chain aliphatic carboxylic acid having grain size of 0.01 to 0.23 in [0086] to [0091]; the preferable silver bromide and silver iodobromide in [0097]. Fukui discloses a photothermographic material having composition as claimed, and therefore, the invention as claimed lacks novelty. The property such as SB/SA is the characteristic of the material after development, and this characteristic would be inherent to the material of Fukui because of the same composition thereof.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(c) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Kudo (US Patent No. 6,808,872).

See Kubo columns 68-72, claims 1, 7, 16. Claims, 1 7, 16 which contains organic silver salt grains, silver halide grains a reducing agent and the compound of formula (10 of the claimed invention; the preferred silver salt of long chain fatty acid in column 17, lines 65-68. The silver salt of salt of long chain fatty acid is preferred by Kudo, and the worker of ordinary skill in the art would have understood that the silver salt in claim 1, 7, 16 of Kubo would encompass the preferred silver salt of long chain fatty acid. Therefore, the claimed invention lacks novelty. Alternatively, the worker of ordinary skill in the art would have selected the organic silver salt disclosed therein with a reasonable expectation of success of obtaining a highly useful photothermographic material.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 1-4 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 7, 16 of U.S. Patent No. US Patent No. 6,808,872. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope of organic silver salt grains encompasses light-insensitive silver salt of an aliphatic carboxylic acid claimed in the present claimed invention.

Conclusion

8. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.
